

Messrs. Boone and Smith are the proprietors of an excellent and well kept saloon and billiard hall under the Waverly House. They keep on hand all the best brands of liquors, cigars, tobacco, & c.

One of the most substantial and reliable merchants of Shelbina is Mr. C.R. Whitehead, who has a hardware and agricultural implement house. His stock is immense, and no man in Shelby County enjoys better popularity with the farmers than he.

Messrs. Rogers & Bates are the butchers of Shelbina and supply the market with fresh meat. They are doing an excellent business and are deservedly popular. Mr. Rogers was formerly of this county, and has many friends here.

Shelbina has many excellent merchants and among those none rank higher than Messrs. Morgan & Gwynn who are wagon and carriage manufacturers and do general blacksmithing and repairing. These gentlemen are worthy of commendation for their enterprise.

Mr. Stephen Thomas is another reliable and excellent mechanic of Shelbina. He has a commodious shop and does general blacksmithing. He has been in Shelbina five years and is a most deserving young man.

Mr. G.A. Jenks is one of the most popular carpenters in Shelbina. He has a large and well stocked shop and enjoys the reputation of being an excellent mechanic. He has lived in Shelbina since the town was located and has built as much of it as any other man. He has contracted for putting up Mr. Worley's house and several residences this summer.

There are many other deserving institutions connected with Shelbina, which we shall notice at some future date as the length of this article compels us at present to close it.